

IT IS ESTIMATED that there are over
50 MILLION PEOPLE
currently enslaved around the world
(48.8 globally/1.2 in the U.S.)

THE PROBLEM

Every minute around the world, at least two people are trafficked into sex slavery, forced labor, or worse. Only 5.1% of them even realize they're being trafficked. Billions of dollars have been spent over the years to fund the rescue and recovery of survivors, and yet global slavery prevalence continues to increase.

THE SOLUTION

There is a way to impact slavery prevalence. It's called TRANSIT MONITORING. Every 20 minutes, on average, in the countries where we work, Love Justice International intercepts an individual out of human trafficking BEFORE they reach their final destination and are sold.

IMPACT & DISRUPTION

Since 2006, LJL has fought to prevent human trafficking and affect modern slavery prevalence.

Over 100,000 intercepted and kept free
Over 2000 arrested by local authorities

In the 16 countries where Love Justice began work prior to 2022, the estimated prevalence of human trafficking has declined by about 9% per year, while in the rest of the world it has increased by roughly 11.6% per year.

Independent data from 2023 Walk Free report

These numbers indicate that our presence doing transit monitoring deters trafficking—like a police car parked alongside the road, monitoring speeding and disrupting normal traffic patterns.

In our case, we disrupt unjust trafficking patterns.
We intercept people out of trafficking BEFORE they experience irreparable trauma.

But how can we do this without you? With your churches help, we can strengthen where we are and scale to where we need to be to fight this hideous injustice.
